

THE EYES OF TAWHIRIMATEA

In a fury of frustration he would leave to join his people before he left he gouged them in his hands and sent them to the sky. The scattered of Tawhirimatea blind. It is said that he sends winds down to the earth because he cannot see. He uses the wind to feel his way around the world. This reminds us of his unhappiness at the separation of his parents by violent storms, floods and tornadoes on his part.
